

Common Questions about The Dream Party™

Is The Dream Party™ just for women?

Absolutely not! Dreaming is for everyone, and so is The Dream Party™ !

How do I get tickets?

Visit <http://www.createyourlifeinc.com> for links to purchase tickets for The Dream Party™ .

We recommend ordering tickets early!

Do I have to dress up?

Though not required, dressing the part of your "future self" is strongly encouraged! Why not share your dream with others through props and creative outfits? It's fun...it's a great conversation starter...and, it's an opportunity to embody and attract your dreams now.

If, for example, by 2014, you want...

- To own a restaurant, you might wear a chef's cap.
- To go on a safari, you might wear a safari hat and binoculars around your neck.
- To live in a beach house, you might wear a sunhat, sandals, and have shells in your pocket.
- To be a marathon runner, you might pin a number to your running clothes.
- To be a philanthropist, you might bring (Monopoly) money to share.
- To be an actor, you might dress the part of your dream role.

You get the idea. Have fun with it.

What's the role of The Dream Team?

As a recipe for whole life, whole body, and whole spirit success, guests of The Dream Party™ have access to The Dream Team: a special team of on-site Dream-Weavers ready to help with practical advice, encouragement and expertise to propel you towards living your dreams.

For the first year ever, we are thrilled to offer the first 50 people to reserve their tickets, access to a V.I.P. pre-event. The first 50 people to order tickets will have exclusive access to the Dream Team Forum and other surprises. This Q & A session provides V.I.P. guests with the unique opportunity to ask questions of the expert Dream Team panel. This special team of experts help people realize dreams every day! Learn from what they know. It may be just the bit of info you need to move forward on your dream. All this before doors open for the main event!

What do you mean by "Should & Impossible are not invited"?

Create Your Life! stands for your dreams and passions, not your "shoulds". We know that language is a powerful creator of your experience, and believe that 'should' and 'impossible' are disempowering words that bolster any obstacles standing between you and your dreams. At the Dream Party™ you will have the opportunity to, literally, shred your 'Shoulds' and 'Impossibles' as you move that much closer to living your dreams for the future. At this station, you'll also receive a special gift!

See you there! Your dreams will thank you.
